PSHCE—Human Life Cycle

Key Vocabulary: Human Life Cycle

life cycle: the series of changes in the life of a living thing	baby: the first stage in the human life cycle responsibility: something which it is your job or duty to carry out	toddler: when a small child begins to walk and talk
adult: fully grown	child: humans aged from 3-12
elderly: an adult who is older and may be changing due to their age	teenager: humans aged from 13-19, a period which involves many changes

Responsibilities

There are lots of different responsibilities—some are good for children and some are for adults. Which do you think are which?

tidying your bedroom

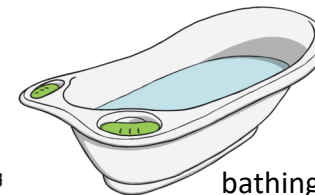

washing up

buying food

taking the register to the office bathing

feeding

sleeping

clean nappy

Parents' Responsibilities

When babies are born, they don't know how to do anything for themselves yet. They need lots of help from their family.

You will learn...

- the human life cycle
- about being grown up and responsibilities
- responsibilities of parents, carers and families

The human life cycle

The human life cycle can be split into six stages. Who do you know that fits into each stage?
